

Dear Visitor!

A very warm welcome to the 8th ERPS Biennale in Bolzano. We are very happy to present a miscellaneous festival program including concerts, lectures, an exhibition of recorder makers and another edition of our international competition for young recorder players.

1 instrument, 100 ways to make it sound is the theme of our festival. The recorder made a great upgrowth through the last 100 years and it is still evolving. There are so many interesting projects by recorder makers and recorder players, so this festival has the aim to show the stunning variety in European recorder playing these days. Therefore we announced an open call and asked all ERPS members for their ideas. We received so many great ideas and are very lucky to present some of them in this year's festival.

ERPS is a society of professional recorder players in Europe. We want to support the recorder in today's concert life and create some platforms where the members can share their ideas, projects and knowledge. If you are interested in joining the ERPS, please visit www.erps.info for further steps. Please note that we offer the whole festival by free entry. If you want to support the work of ERPS and this year's Biennale there will be the possibility to donate at the exit of the concert halls. Thank you! We wish you a very nice weekend enjoying the variety of the recorder!
